FOCUS '72

Editor: Teju Crabtree

*Happiness, sadness, loneliness, love
Each with cause to cry.
Given to all when they were born
And taken from all who die.*

*Cowardice, envy, jealousy, hate
All to no avail.
Known by all who ne'r grow up
And shown by all who fail.*

June 29

Who will keep the brown days turning when we go?
It's hard to picture all their moving parts functioning without our hands to turn them.

The mechanics of MAYBE might not work without an audience of two or more that's why I never worry over rain.

The flood would never sweep our house away
for who'd be left to watch the sunset
when we're gone?

Rod McKuen

Rod McKuen's poem was taken from his book
IN SOMEONE'S SHADOW, and reprinted by

Our thanks to . . .

a number of people who helped make this yearbook possible. Since pictures are the essential of a yearbook, we needed and received help from several photographers. One was Mr. Tommy Harrell, Tom Deputy, whose work has appeared in several earlier books, contributed the color picture of the bridge. Bennett Adams and Kim Benson of the FOCUS staff, along with Ronnie Lane, produced shots needed for certain sections of the book. Bryn-Alan Studios of Jacksonville and Leonard Studio of St. Augustine took the class pictures. When we were in a bind for a certain picture, the PALATKA DAILY NEWS graciously came through if they had what we needed.

Throughout all of the interruptions and confusion of picture taking schedules, the administration lent its support and the faculty remained calm.

The art in the book is the work of Deborraha Burnett. Debbie Driggers wrote the poem on page 3.

Now to the staff. The 240 pages are assigned by sections to individuals or small groups, with the editor having overall responsibility in addition to her own pages. With some overlapping, the following list shows the pages each staff member laid out.

Gail Carnes, senior section, Homecoming, World Lit., senior directory;

Ricky Cobb, senior section, Chess, football and basketball;

Kim Benson, senior section, Student Government, Key Club, varsity cheerleaders;

Kathy Dancy, junior section, Keyettes, Bravettes, GAA, baseball, and girls' intramurals;

Don Drew, junior section, golf, cross country, candid pages, and Oceanography Club;

Debbie Driggers, freshman section, SMOKE SIGNAL, band;

Gary Flanders, freshman section, French, Varsity,

Tri-Hi-Y, Hi-Y and Jr. Deputies;

Rebecca Rogero, sophomore section, FHA, DCT, track;
Sam Willis, sophomore section, Library Council;

Juanita Edmundson, business manager, ad pages, curriculum;

Madeline Masters, ad pages, Interact, FFA, Civinettes, Beta, and Band;

Bennett Adams, ad pages, candid, Drama Club;

Teju Crabtree, editor, opening section, senior section, dedication, honors, candid, curriculum, annual pages, closing section;

Mrs. W.E. Banks, annual sponsor, suggested, pushed, cajoled, prayed, and threatened every page of the way to help us produce this book.

Everyone on the staff sold ads for a total of $2100. Without the financial assistance of these business firms, it would have been impossible to produce this book for the comparatively low price of $6.25. The staff calls your attention to these advertisers and encourages you to do business with them.

Some wished to help finance the book by their contributions. Our thanks also to these patrons who are Dr. H. Frank Young, Dr. J.W. Todd, Dr. J.E. Thornton, Dr. F.W. Whitmire, Dr. T.H. Cartledge, Tringle Bookkeeping Service, and Fabric Fabric Store No. 55.

Many hours of overtime went into the production of this book. We proudly present it as a record of the way things were at Palatka South High School in the year 1971-72.

FOCUS 72 Staff

It's hard to picture all their moving parts functioning without our hands to turn them.

The mechanics of MAYBE might not work without an audience of two or more.

when we're gone?
