PREFACE.

The publisher of this, the 1912-13 Directory of the city of Palatka, feels very grateful for the rapid advancement made by the city not only as regards increase in population, but in civic and commercial channels as well, since the issue of his last Directory in 1909. No city in the State has grown with more rapidity within the same period, note of which has been made not only throughout Florida, but in every section of the country. This goes as evidence of the unity of her citizens when it comes to anything looking towards the advancement of the city and its interests, and to the efforts of this progressive element is due the prosperous atmospheric conditions which surround the Gem City by the St. Johns.

According to the standard rules of tabulation, there are 5,988 bona-fide population, divided as follows: White, 3,125; colored, 2,863.

Embodied in this volume will also be found a Directory of patrons of the two rural free delivery routes leading out of Palatka, which the publisher trusts will prove of some value to those requiring such Directory. This does not include the population noted above, however.

The compiler does not guarantee the absolute correctness of this Directory, but assures the public that he has done the best he could—which is all any compiler can do.

To the business and professional men for their liberal advertising support, as well as to all others who rendered valuable information which helped to make this work possible, the publisher is grateful.

Sincerely,

THE PUBLISHER.

DIVIDING LINE.

The City is divided into two sections, north and south, by Lemon street, running east and west. All streets running north and south are numbered, beginning from 1st street at the eastern end of Lemon, and continuing in successive numbers westward to the city limits. All streets not intersecting, or coming in contact with Lemon, are indicated by "n" or "s" following name of streets, showing in what direction said street is located from Lemon, thus:

R. F. D. DIRECTORY

This Directory has been carefully compiled, and represents a patronage population of 854, embracing the two routes, although only the names of adult heads of families are published. Care has been taken to secure only the names of parties whom the compiler has good reason to believe are permanent residents.

Figures following names indicate the number in each family—first figure for adults, second for minors.

Explanation and key—O, owner; R, renter; L, laborer; G, orange grower; (—) wife's name; C, colored. All orange growers are also engaged in farming or trucking.

Abbreviations designating occupation will be readily understood. Where no occupation is designated, the party is a farmer.

This list has been revised to October 15, 1912.

In addressing mail to any resident, the route, as well as the postoffice, should be given, thus:

Mr. A. B. Bragg,
R. F. D. No. 1,
